| Genetische Besonderheit                 | Kürzel | Krankheitsbild bei erbkranken Tieren (homozygote Träger)                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------------------|--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Arachnomelie-Spinnengliedrigkeit        | AR     | Betroffene reinerbige Kälber werden tot geboren oder sterben kurz nach der Geburt. Auffällig sind die dünnen Röhrenknochen, der verkrümmte Rücken und der häufig verkürzte Unterkiefer.                                                                              |
| Bovine männliche Subfertilität BMS (MS) | MS     | Reinerbige männliche Tiere (KB und Natursprung) sind fast völlig unfruchtbar, bei mischerbigen und generell bei weiblichen Tieren gibt es keine Auswirkungen.                                                                                                        |
| Braunvieh-Haplotyp 2 BH2                | B2     | Unterdurchschnittliches Geburtsgewicht, höhere Totgeburtenrate und deutlich erhöhter Anteil an Aufzuchtverlusten durch höhere Krankheitsanfälligkeit (z.B. Lungenentzündung), meist Verenden innerhalb der ersten 50. Lebenstage.                                    |
| Fleckvieh-Haplotyp 4 FH4                | F4     | Embryonaler Fröhrtod in ersten Wochen, meist Umrindern nach 21 Tagen, daher verringerte Non-Return-Rate.                                                                                                                                                             |
| Fleckvieh-Haplotyp 5 FH5                | F5     | Kälber verenden innerhalb von Stunden bzw. wenigen Tagen nach der Geburt an Herzschwäche (Herzinsuffizienz) und schweren Leberschäden.                                                                                                                               |
| Minderwuchs FH2                         | F2     | Reinerbige Träger zeigen meist weitgehend normales Geburtsgewicht, massives Zurückbleiben im Wachstum, bei männlichen Tieren meist schmale „weibliche“ Kopfform.                                                                                                     |
| Thrombopathie-Bluterkrankheit TP        | TP     | Reinerbige Tiere zeigen normales Allgemeinbefinden, leiden aber nach Verletzungen, Injektionen oder chirurgischen Eingriffen an anhaltenden Blutungen der Haut, der Nase und Schleimhäute durch massiv beeinträchtigte Blutgerinnung. Kann bis zum Verbluten führen. |
| Zinkdefizienz-like Syndrom ZDL          | ZL     | Reinerbige Kälber werden gesund geboren, wiederkehrende Durchfall- und Atemwegserkrankungen, im Alter von ca. 6 bis 12 Wochen entzündliche Hautveränderungen (ähnlich wie bei Zinkmangel), führt zum Tod.                                                            |
| Zwergwuchs DW                           | DW     | Geburtsgewicht meist nur zwischen 15 und 20 kg, langsames Wachstum, typische spitze Kopfform mit gerader Nasenlinie, häufig Unterkieferverkürzung                                                                                                                    |

Die Erbfehlerkennzeichnung erfolgt mit dem internationalen dreistelligen Buchstabencode

Stelle 1-2: Kürzel für den Erbfehler (mittlere Spalte)

Stelle 3: Trägerstatus: C=Träger (carrier), F=frei (free), S=homozygoter Träger (sure)

Beispiel: TPC = Anlageträger für Trombopathie; TPF = frei von Trombopathie

Achtung:

Es handelt sich in allen Fällen um rezessive Erbfehler, die nur zur Ausprägung kommen, wenn das Tier homozygot ist (Kennzeichnung S), d.h. die Anlage von beiden Eltern vererbt bekommen hat.

Heterozygote (mischerbige) Tiere sind zwar Träger der Anlage, aber sind völlig gesund.

Aber:

Jeder Anlageträger gibt das Schädgen an 50% seiner Nachkommen weiter.
